Writing Calendar

Welcome to your free monthly writing plan!

This month: we're entering the season of mists and mellow fruitfulness. Evenings are getting chillier and more golden, and blackberries are everywhere. I love late summer.

You can write as much or as little as you like, for as long as you like – but I recommend setting a timer for at least 5 minutes. Start with a step so small you can't fail.

Give yourself the gift of creativity and space to write this September – and bring a friend! It's free to join in.
